ARMY BEATS POINT JUDITH

During Play Ball Hits Workman on Head. Then Flies Into an Automobile Full of Children.

[From a Staff Correspondent of The Tribune.] Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 11 .- There were a number of polo matches at the Point Judith Polo Club here to-day. The most important was in the final round of the junior championship, in which the Cooperstown team did valiant service. The team defeated Great Neck by a score of 10% to 7 goals.

What might have been a serious acci dent happened as the junior champion-ship game was ending. A ball that flew one of the Italian employes who was working about the grounds a glancing blow on the head. It did not hurt the man, but it soared on and landed in Louis E. Stoddard's automobile among his chil

Cooperstown had the memory of a de feat at Rockaway to wipe out, although the line-ups were not quite identical. Carlton F. Burke, of the Midweek Country Club, of Pasadena, Cal., took the place of Malcolm Stevenson. Burke is finely mounted, having six ponies from the Pacific Coast with him. Two of them, Carrying the News, a chestnut, and Helen in the last international match. Burks is a true and strong hitter, who would seemingly be over than under 3, which is his rating on the official list. Grace, of the Great Neck team, was not making his usual telling strokes. Webb, usually a terror with his left hand, was utterly off in his mallet work. Rumsey was adept, and had perhaps the neatest and most varied stroke all the pole players, and to-day he was at upon a location for the Army-Navy foot- his best both near-side and off-side. Von Stade was decidedly the best of the this football classic this year, although team. He rode like Danny Maher and hit the willow like a Trojan Goodwin, of Hartford, was thrown and a ball and had to withdraw from play-
